The Appalachian Mountain Club’s Cold River Camp is a wonderful vacation destination for experiencing the charms of the White Mountains. Local hiking trails abound, from easy to challenging. Open summits, brooks, secluded pools. The Presidentials and North Conway are within striking distance for day trips, as are the Saco and Androscoggin Rivers.

Settle into your cabin for a week or partial week. Enjoy a hot breakfast in the lodge and make your trail lunch. Head out with other guests on one of the guided hikes offered daily and arrive back in time for a dip in the Cold River. Or do your own thing - hike, swim, paddle, bike or simply relax.

Discuss the day over dinner (our cooks prepare healthy delicious meals, no camp food here) then chat on the lodge porch, join in the evening activity or a board game in the lodge, read a book in the library, play ping-pong in the rec hall, or prepare for the Friday night talent show.

Camp is also a great place for kids to play with each other.

Most guests return to this peaceful place year after year. Come be part of the Cold River Camp community. We look forward to seeing you!
